

Manuel Stagars is a film director, author, economist, researcher, and startup entrepreneur from Switzerland. For his recent documentary films The Blockchain and Us, and Digital Transformation, he traveled to entrepreneurial centers all over Europe, America, China, and Japan. Manuel has conducted over 100 interviews with scientists, entrepreneurs, CEOs, heads of state, artists, visionaries, and others about their outlook on disruptive technologies and the future. In this lecture, he speaks about his experiences and insights making his documentary films. Are we ready for the digital future? How can we change our perspective? Manuel's talk offers some unexpected questions and answers.
